GREEN

Thomas Green arrived in Pennsylvania on May 11, 1686, on the Delaware from Bristol, England, with his wife Margaret and their children and servants Mary Guest and Sarah Searle. In 1689 he bought 200 acres in Concord Township, Chester (now Delaware) County, Pennsylvania, and another 200 acres in the same place on October 6, 1691, from the attorney of Dennis Rockford. He evidently died about Novembe, 1691, and in 1703 the 400 acres was owned jointly by his widow Margaret and his son Thomas. Margaret made her will on September 7, 1708, leaving her property to her children, and the will was probated on October 6, 1708. The children of Thomas and Margaret Green were, perhaps among others, as follows:[1]

a. Robert Green evidently remained in England.
b. Mary Green married (1) Richard Moore, died 1695; (2) c1698 Joseph Cloud.
c. Thomas Green died in Birmingham Township, Chester (now Delaware) County, Pennsylvania, about 1713. He lived on land owned by Joseph Cloud, who on May 3, 1715, sold the 150 acres to Thomas' widow Sarah; she gave the land to her son Robert on June 10, 1721; children:
   (1) Thomas Green, born c1691; married (1) December 1, 1715, Susannah Cloud; (2) Mary _____; lived in Caln Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania.
1. (2) John Green, born c1693. See below.
   (3) Robert Green, born c1695; died March 20, 1779, in Birmingham Township, Chester (now Delaware) County, Pennsylvania; married September 18, 1724, Rachel Vernon.
   (4) Henry Green married November 1, 1734, Elizabeth Hollingsworth.
   (5) Edward Green.
   (6) Samuel Green.
   (7) Abel Green died 1788 in Chester County, Pennsylvania; married Mrs. Jane (Williamson) Regester.
   (8) Margaret Green married April 26, 1730, Issacher Green, died 1752 in New Castle County, Delaware.
d. John Green made his will in Concord Township, Chester (now Delaware) County, Pennsylvania, on December 14, 1691, leaving all his property to his mother, and the will was probated on May 16, 1695.

1. John Green (see above) was born about 1693 in Chester (now Delaware) County, Pennsylvania, and about 1717 married Abigail Reeves, who was born in Yorkshire, England, and came to America with a married sister. He lived in Brandywine Hundred, New Castle County, Delaware, when on August 19, 1724, he bought 60 acres in Rockland Manor on the line between Chester and New Castle Counties for £18 from Thomas Strode. On October 2, 1730, Anne Gunston willed him her estate, including 50 acres in Birmingham Township, Chester (now Delaware) County, Pennsylvania. He died in 173? in Rockland Manor, and while there is no proof, his children were probably as follows:[2]

a. Robert Green, born c1718; married Ann _____; sold his share of his father's lands to Abel Green on May 6, 1740.[3]
b. (child).

c. Mary Green, born April 2, 1722; died October 27, 1813, in Chatham County, North Carolina; married c1740 John McPherson (see p. 16)[4]

d. (child).

e. (child).

f. Abigail Green, born August 16, 1729; died December 6, 1810, in Kennett Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania; married September 28, 1748, Joshua Harlan, born April 17, 1726; died September 11, 1804.[5]

McPHERSON

Daniel McPherson, according to family tradition, was born about 1682 near Inverness, Scotland, and was kidnapped while tending sheep on his father's farm when he was about 14 years of age. He was brought to the Wilmington, Delaware, area and sold as an indentured servant to a Quaker master. While he did not like his master, he did sympathize with Quaker beliefs. He was described as being about six feet tall with a strong constitution. After his term of indenture ended, he worked as a laborer until he earned enough money to buy a farm.[1]

On October 10, 1706, Daniel McPherson of Birmingham bought 300 acres in Kennett Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania, from John Guest for £60; the land lay partly in White Clay Creek Hundred, New Castle County, Delaware. About 1712 he married Ruth Shires, who had recently moved to America from Great Britain with a married sister. On February 21, 1734, he and Thomas Campbell bought 385 acres on White Clay Creek in Delaware from the estate of John Henzy, and on May 16, 1738, Campbell sold him his share for £260. In June, 1751, following a lawsuit concerning title to Henzy's land, Daniel sold his share to Thomas Wilson for £800. On May 12, 1740, James Hutchinson gave McPherson a lot on Front and Water Streets and Christiana Creek to hold in trust for a debt to John Richardson. On May 20, 1740, Daniel bought another lot in Wilmington from Thomas Milner for £45; on May 16, 1744, he bought a lot on Third Street in Wilmington from the trustees of the Swedish congregation.[2]

After his wife Ruth died about 1747, Daniel McPherson sold his land in Kennett to James House and moved to Salisbury Township, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, with his son Daniel. He made his will on February 24, 1755, dividing his property among his children; the estate was probated on August 5, 1755, and the executors sold his lots in Wilmington. Daniel and Ruth McPherson had the following children:[3]

1. a. Ann McPherson, born c1714. See BELOW.
2. b. Daniel McPherson, born c1716. See p. 4 .
3. c. John McPherson, born November 6, 1718. See p. 16.
4. d. Stephen McPherson, born c1724. See p. 146.
5. e. William McPherson, born c1726. See p. 232.
   f. Othniel McPherson, born c1729; dsp c1742.

3. John McPherson (see p. 3) was born November 6, 1718, in White Clay Creek Hundred and about 1740 married Mary Green (see p. 2). He owned a farm near his father which lay partly in Chester County, Pennsylvania, and partly in New Castle County, Delaware. He sold his land to Nathaniel Ring and in 1765 moved to Orange (now Chatham) County, North Carolina, where he farmed. His three eldest sons were involved in the Regulator Rebellion, although they took an oath to the Crown afterwards. The family was neutral in the American Revolution, partly because of Mary's devotion to the family's oath of allegiance and her pacifism, and both Whigs and Tories pillaged their farm repeatedly; they lost cattle, horses, crops and other property. John McPherson became blind several years before his death on March 16, 1798, and was cared for by his daughter Abigail.[38]

After the death of her husband, Mary McPherson continued to keep house with her daughter Abigail; she sometimes visited her son Joseph in Stokes County, North Carolina. She was probably not a member of the Society of Friends, but many times stated that she "listened to the good Quaker in her breast." She was extremely industrious and was noted as a midwife, often riding 15 miles to a case, and her services were much in demand; she was known for her kindness and charity, She was more than six feet tall and of remarkable strength; it was claimed that she could lift a keg of cider or two and a half bushels of wheat. She remained vigorous to an advanced age, dying of cancer on her face on October 27, 1813, in Chatham County, North Carolina.[39]

a. Ruth McPherson, born January 22, 1742; died in 1802 in Chatham County, North Carolina; married August 20, 1760, Aaron Evans, born May 1, 1739; died January 11, 1786, son of Owen Evans and Mary Harlan; children:[40]

22. Joseph McPherson (see p. 17) was born August 27, 1748, in New Castle County, Delaware, and moved to Orange (now Chatham) County, North Carolina, in 1765. He was a spectator at the Battle of Alamance on May 16, 1771, in the Regulator Rebellion, but took no part in the fighting; he later took an oath of allegiance to the Crown. Many years later he wrote two accounts of the Rebellion, one of which was published in part. He was a carpenter and wheelwright, and for a time worked in an iron furnace. On July 25, 1776, he married Abigail Piggott, born January 18, 1757, daughter of William Piggott and Sarah Pike.[89]

In 1780, Joseph McPherson moved to Surry (later Stokes and now Forsyth) County, North Carolina, where he lived between Salem and Muddy Creek Meeting House of the Society of Friends, which he probably joined about the time of his marriage. He paid for his farm by working as a carpenter building houses, mills and barns in the neighborhood; the farm consisted of 192 acres with two orchards, and he was primarily interested in raising cattle.[90]

Joseph McPherson was strongly interested in education and promoted the establishment of schools in his neighborhood; he bought books and had a library considered extensive for the time and place. He wanted his children to receive the best education possible and sent some of them back to Chatham County to attend school and to teach.[91]

After his wife Abigail died on June 28, 1827, Joseph lived with his daughters Abigail and Lydia. He lost his farm on a security debt and he suffered a fall before his death which rendered him helpless. He died January 14, 1835, in Forsyth County, North Carolina, leaving the following children:[92]

a. Mary McPherson, born June 23, 1777; died August 19, 1875, in Morgan County, Indiana; married c1806 Joshua Lindley, born March 21, 1778; died August 16, 1850, son of Thomas Lindley and Sarah Evans.

108. Jehu H. McPherson (see p. 73) was born about 1800 in Union County, South Carolina, and moved to Barren (now Monroe) County, Kentucky, in 1807. About 1826 he married Minerva Hardin (see Trimble, Gist), and in 1830 he was U. S. Census Marshall for Monroe County; on April 5, 1834, he received a warrant from the state of Kentucky for 70 acres on Skeggs Creek in Monroe County.[232]

He moved to Marshall County, Mississippi, where on December 25, 1838, he acted as trustee for Joseph Lewis. On March 9, 1840, David Hardin gave him the use of several slaves because of his love for his daughter Minerva, Jehu's wife. On June 23, 1842, Hardin gave Minerva a slave and on August 26, 1846, Minerva inherited eight slaves from her father. On November 26, 1840, Jehu gave slaves and personal property to John L. Chism as his trustee for debts of $1,427.87, and on July 3, 1843, Edmund N. B. G. Willis gave Jehu personal property as his trustee for debts.[233]

On December 6, 1841, Jehu McPherson bought the south half of Sec. 19, Twp. 4, Range 4 West of the Chickasaw Session from James M. Brown for $3,000.00, and on July 24, 1843, he bought land of Lorenzo D. Henderson at a tax sale; on December 22, 1843, he bought at auction 2,400 acres from John L. Chism, trustee for Henderson. On May 3, 1846, he sold Daniel Saffurans Sec. 26, Twp. 4, Range 2 West for $1,000.00; on May 25, 1846, he sold Woodson Puckett the land bought from Brown for $2,500.00, and on July 11, 1846, he sold George W. 4. Stephen McPherson (see p. 3) was born about 1724 in White Clay Creek Hundred, New Castle County, Delaware, and about 1751 married Mary Pyle, who was a member of the Society of Friends. In 1753 they moved from Kennett Township, Chester (now Delaware) County, Pennsylvania, to New Garden Township in the same county, where he was a blacksmith and farmer; in 1769 they asked that their children be received into the Society of Friends.[259]

On October 5, 1773, Stephen bought 285 acres in Loudoun County, Virginia, from Josiah and Elizabeth Suttle for £240, and on February 20, (1774?), he bought land there from John Violet and William Allen. In 1774 Mary requested and received a certificate from New Garden Monthly Meeting to Fairfax Monthly Meeting in Loudoun County and the family moved to Virginia. Stephen's land had been partially cleared and had a large apple orchard and a log house with a clapboard roof. Mary died in 177? and about 1777 Stephen married Ann Fred. Between 1779 and 1785 he was plaintiff in several suits for debt payments, probably due his blacksmith business. On August 19, 1784, they sold Stephen McPherson, Jr., 108 acres for $30.00, and on October 7, 1790, they sold Joseph Carr 68 acres for L29.4; they sold Carr another 31 acres in 1793.[260]

Stephen McPherson made his will on February 2, 1799, leaving his property to his wife and children, and the will was probated on October 14, 1799. His children, all by his first marriage, were as follows:[261]

219. John McPherson (see above) was born about 1752 in Chester (now Delaware) County, Pennsylvania, and in 1771 married Phoebe Hutton, a member of the Society of Friends, for which marriage she was disowned. In 1774 they moved to Frederick County, Virginia, and on May 6, 1778, John bought 199 acres from Benjamin Sedwick for £279. After the death of Phoebe, John on July 6, 1789, married Jemima Murdock. On September 22, 1794, they sold three acres to Abner Bane for £55, and the remaining 196 acres for £400 to William Castleman in 1795. They then moved to Bedford County, Virginia, where he bought 217 acres on Crab Orchard Creek from Thomas Woodford for £200 in 1797 and 150 acres from Jesse Lewis in 1801. On July 6, 1799, he became a member of Goose Creek Monthly Meeting of the Society of Friends. He sold his 217 acre tract to Isaac Wade on September 17, 1802 for £400, 134 acres on Difficult Creek to George Wilson for £140, and 20 acres on Difficult Creek to Francis Mayhew for £60, both on April 20, 1803.[262]

McPherson then moved to Belmont County, Ohio, where he became a member of Concord Monthly Meeting on June 8, 1803. He bought 311 acres of Sec. 24, Twp. 7, Range 5, which he left to his sons Stephen, John and Daniel in his will. He also bought 160 acres, the northwest quarter of Sec. 18, Twp. 7, Range 5, from James and Mary Sinclair, which he left to his sons Solomon, William and Joseph, and which was registered to them on February 28, 1812. He made his will on June 8, 1804, leaving his property to his wife and children, and the will was probated on September 16, 1804. The children of John and Jemima McPherson (she married Thomas Hart on March 16, 1807) were as follows:[263]

(by first marriage):
226. a. Stephen McPherson, born c1773. See below.

226. Stephen McPherson (see above) was born about 1773 in Chester County, Pennsylvania, and moved to Frederick County, Virginia, in childhood; on December 11, 1794, he married Phoebe Murdock. They moved to Bedford County, Virginia, where on December 7, 1798, he bought 65 acres on Cox's Branch from Joseph Thomas for £46.10; he sold the land on March 27, 1803, to Henry Williamson for £100.[265]

McPherson then moved to Belmont County, Ohio, where on August 10, 1805, he received a land grant in Section 4, Township 7, Range 5, and inherited 120 acres in Section 24, but he returned to Bedford County, Virginia, where on February 20, 1810, he bought 92 acres from Richard Berditt. He and Elijah Murdoch sold 184 acres to John Ashwell for $470.00 on October 12, 1816, and he bought 30 acres on the waters of Staunton River from Benjamin Musgrove for $200.00. He gave Samuel Hancock a deed of trust for the land as security for a debt; on October 14, 1825, he sold his property to Christopher Musgrove and moved to Giles County, Virginia, where he lived in 1830.[266] While there is no proof, he probably had the following children:[267]

a. Sarah McPherson, born c1795; died October 11, 1856, in Morgan County, Kentucky; married August 29, 1814, Abraham Fielder.

5. William McPherson (see p. 3) was born about 1726 in White Clay Creek Hundred, New Castle County, Delaware, and married (1) July 6, 1747, Margaret Trego; (2) about 1753 Phoebe Passmore, born April 27, 1734, daughter of William Passmore and Mary Heald. Phoebe was a member of the Society of Friends and on June 7, 1755, was granted a certificate to Cane Creek Monthly Meeting and the family moved to Orange (now Chatham) County, North Carolina, where on February 20, 1756, he received a grant from Earl Granville of 480 acres on the west side of Deep River which he sold to Joshua Gregg in 1759; he also received a grant from Earl Granville on August 6, 1759, for 227 acres on the south side of Cain Creek and Haw River. On April 23, 1770, William McPherson made a deposition concerning conversation he had with Harmon Husbands and Edmund Fanning during the Regulator Rebellion.[408]

McPherson received North Carolina land grants for 180 acres and 90 acres on August 9, 1787, 100 acres on July 10, 1788, 163 acres on November 16, 1790, 25 acres on June 10, 1799, and 150 acres on June 2, 1800, all on the waters of Cain Creek. 351. Othniel McPherson (see p. 232) was born about 1751 in Chester (now Delaware) County, Pennsylvania, and in 1755 moved to Orange (now Chatham) County, North Carolina, where he married Christian ——— . He received North Carolina land grants for 200 acres and 96 acres on Pyle's Creek, 300 acres on the waters of Cain Creek, 200 acres, 50 acres and 250 Acres on Tyrrell's Creek, and 52 acres adjoining Hadley and Crutchfield, all on November26, 1799, and 75 acres on the waters of Tyrrell's Creek on September 30, 1800; he bought 60 acres from Isaac Henderson for £60 on May 15, 1801, a one-sixth interest in 360 acres from John Crutchfield for $125.00 on December 27, 1813, and 37 acres from John Stapleton and Anderson Crutchfield for $125.00 on April 13, 1830, all on the waters of Tyrrell's Creek.[412]

McPherson sold 75 acres to Simon Hadley for $75.00, 170 acres to James Lindley for $100.00 and 50 acres to Jonathan Lindley for £25 o May 1, 1801. He sold James Lindley 175 acres for $100.00 on October 5, 1806, and 30 acres for $30.00 on October 10, 1806. He also sold 200 acres to Abraham Geren and Jesse Y. Welborn for $200.00 on October 26, 1807, and 40 acres to William Burchard for $20.00 on September 27, 1821. He evidently had financial difficulties, because on February 16, 1824, he gave the sheriff, Horace D. Bridges, 45 acres to hold as trustee for Othniel's debts, and on April 3, 1828, he gav John Newlin two tracts of land to pay Othniel's debts; on April 14, 1830, he sold Joshua Hadley 10 acres for $6.00.[413]

[428] Chatham County, North Carolina, census, 1800-40. These are presumed to be children of Daniel McPherson because of close association and because there were no other McPherson families in the area prior to 1821. Duncan McPherson and (sons?) David and Duncan evidently arrived there in the late 1820's, but there was probably no relationship. Rebecca McPherson, who married Simon Johnston, has sometimes been said to be the daughter of William McPherson, but it is impossible.

[429] Chatham County, North Carolina, Marriages. It is possible that this is the William McPherson who lived in Morgan County, Indiana (census, 1830-50; Smith McPherson, "M. L. McPherson," 1913, in Madison County, Iowa, Historical Society files).

MARGERY McPHERSON
(c1802-1882)

DAUGHTER OF JEHU McPHERSON AND MARGERY NICHOLLS

WIFE OF HIRAM GIST

TRAIL

David Trail[1] was probably born about 1685, probably in Scotland, and lived in New Scotland Hundred, Prince Georges (now Montgomery) County, Maryland, as early as 1719. On April 6, 1720, he bought 170 acres called "David's Industry" from Archibald Edmonston for 6,500 pounds of tobacco. On August 5, 1744, he gave his son, David Trail, Jr., 100 acres known as "Good Will". While there is no further proof, he probably had, perhaps among others, the following children:[2]

1. a. Charles Trail, born c1710. See below.
2. b. David Trail, born c1712. See p. 308.
3. c. James Trail, born c1715. See p. 318.

Charles Trail (see above) was born about 1710, probably in Scotland, and lived in New Scotland Hundred, Prince Georges County, Maryland, in 1719; he paid taxes there in 1733. In 1744 he signed a petition to divide Prince Georges County; he later lived in Frederick (now Montgomery) County, Maryland, and on August 22, 1754, he bought land from John Buxton. He made his will on June 28, 1763, leaving his wife Susannah 50 acres called "Trail's Choice" and 52 acres, part of "Buxton's Delight"; after her death the lands would be owned by their sons Thomas and James. He gave his son David 50 acres, part of "Buxton's Delight," and he gave his son Charles "David's Industry". The will was probated on August 1, 1763. His children were as follows:[3]

4. a. Charles Trail, born c1740. See below.
5. b. David Trail, born c1743. See p. 293.
6. c. Thomas Trail, born c1746. See p. 301.
d. Jane Trail.
7. e. James Trail, born c1757. See p. 307.

{2} James Madison Trail, born c1845 (?).
{3} Elisha Trail, born c1847.
{4} Jonas Trail, born c1850.
{5} Elizabeth Trail, born c1852.
{6} Nancy M. Trail, born c1856; died July, 1939, in Berea, Kentucky; married Jesse B. Wolfe (see Trimble, Wolfe).
{7} William Trail, born c1859.
{8} Susan Trail, born c1861.
{9} Andrew Trail, born c1864.
(c) (daughter), born c1831.
(by second marriage):
(d) Nancy Trail, born c1835.
(e) John Trail, born c1839.
(f) Charles Trail, born c1843.
(g) William Trail, born c1847.
(2) (daughter), born c1799.
(3) Charles Trail, born c1801.[7]
(4) (daughter), born c1803.
(5) (daughter), born c1806.
c. Charles Trail lived in Nelson County, Virginia, in 1832 and probably died there without children.[8]

45. Eleanor Trail (see p. 319) was born about 1742 in Prince Georges (later Frederick and now Montgomery) County, Maryland, and married (1) about 1765 George Nicholls; they moved to Spartanburg County, South Carolina, where George died and Eleanor married (2) James Lee. On October 10, 1786, James and Eleanor Lee were appointed administrators of the estate of George Nicholls. On December 21, 1785, James Lee was charged by the county court with calling on God to damn the grand jurors, and on December 19, 1787, he was charged with using his spurs on the back of John Bagwell, Jr., in a fight. On March 18, 1789, James Lee bought the 137 acres where he then lived from Thomas Clary for £50; on March 17, 1790, he was sued by Hugh Pierce but the court dismissed the case. On December 20, 1803, James and his wife Eleanor sold 150 acres on the South Fork of Mitchell's Creek to Amos Lee for $400.00. On September 4, 1805, they, with Jane West, gave Solomon West power of attorney to receive their share of the estate of James Trail, and on December 10, 1807, after the death of his wife, Lee sold 92 acres on Dutchman's Creek to Nancy, wife of Abraham Poole, until her son John was 21 years of age. James Lee, who was a member of the Friendship Baptist Church in Spartanburg County, probably died soon after.[76]

While there is no proof, the children of Eleanor Trail Nicholls Lee, all by her first marriage, were undoubtedly, perhaps among others, as follows:[77]

67. a. Rachel Nicholls, born April 13, 1766. See below.
b. Margery Nicholls, born c1768; married Jehu McPherson (see p. 72).
c. Nancy Nicholls, born c1770; married Abraham Poole, who in 1806 sold 113 acres on Enoree River to Matthew Crouch; children (perhaps among others):
  (1) John Poole.
  (2) Cassandra Poole.
  (3) Margaret Poole.
d. Eleanor Nicholls, born c1772.
68. e. Benjamin Nicholls, born c1775. See p. 337.
